City Purchases Truck, Tractor for Clean-Up Drive

Hazard's spring clean-up drive got a big assist last week when the City Commission opened bids and bought a new truck and a tractor.

The truck was purchased from Davidson Motor Company here for $3,647.50. It will be used mainly for garbage collection and by the public works men who are engaged primarily in city clean-up.

The tractor was also purchased from the Davidson Motor Company, for $3,000.14. Its main function will be to pull the street washer. It is large enough to pull the washer along streets that until now have been too steep for the old tractor.

The clean-up program, being pushed now by City Manager C. C. Colwell, will be stepped up beginning today with the inauguration of the city's new policy of collecting debris placed near streets every Thursday instead of only twice a month.

Colwell said that all homeowners who have unwanted debris raked up on private premises may place the matter by the street where it will be handy to collection crews who will pick it up every Thursday.

The city's clean-up manpower continues to be boosted by the public works crew provided by the State Employment Office here.

These men have been working for almost a month now picking up trash on the streets, cleaning out gutters and streams and ditches in town, placing rock in ditches to halt erosion and hauling away to the dump any trash it finds anywhere.

Colwell said he continues to be much impressed with the success of the public works project and the willingness of the men to work.

"This is not a charity program," he said. "These men really work. This is a program this state should have had a long time ago."

With the first month of the public works program almost finished, some of the workers have already worked out their allotted time.

The amount of time a man may work is determined by the degree of his need as figured by the Public Assistance office here.

But if he has not found regular employment or otherwise become disqualified for the work program, he will go to work again when the new month begins, so the City is assured of the continued use of the work crews for some time to come.

PUBLIC WORKS PROJECT

These members of the Public Works crew, which the City is now using, are repairing the Skyline Drive with rocks which they have cleaned out of the ditch. This is a typical example of the city-wide cleanup and road repairing program which the city crew has been engaged in for the past month.

Napier Student Places First-In National Ability Counts Contest

M. C. Napier High School participated in the 16th Annual National "Ability Counts" contest for the 11th and 12th grade high school students for the school year of 1963-1964.

Sponsored by the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped, the contest is sponsored locally by the Employment Office of Hazard, Kentucky. The theme of this year's essay was "How Handicapped Workers in My Community Are Proving That 'Ability Counts'".

Winners in the local contest were all from Napier High School. First place winner with $25.00 bond was Miss Mary Lou Napier. Butterfly: Second prize with $10.00 cash was Miss Iline Rakes, Grapevine; and Third place with $5.00 cash award was Miss Vera Dawn Napier, Harvinton. Miss Bonnie Sue McIntosh, Bonnyman and Miss Jackie Overbee, Bonnyman also entered the essay contest and received 4th and 5th places.

The three top essays will be entered in the State Contest at Frankfort, Kentucky and the first place winner in the State Contest will be entered in the National Contest.

The Savings Bond was given by Dewey Daniel of Peoples Bank. The prizes were given to the contestants at the school on Friday, March 6, 1964.

Perry County Will Accept Bids On New Courthouse

The County has been authorized by the Housing and Home Finance Agency's regional office in Atlanta, Georgia to proceed with advertising for bids on the new court house.

This word was received by telephone earlier this week by County Attorney Calvin Manis. Today's Herald carries the first advertisement for bids on the new $800,000-plus structure.

Arrangements have been made to open the bids in open court on April 30.

Destruction of the present court house is expected to begin no later than June 1. The eventual contractor will have 400 days in which to complete his work, which means that the new court house should be ready for occupancy about mid-summer of next year.

Government officials who now occupy offices in the present court house still are not sure where they will move to while the new building is under construction.

Judge Wells Found Innocent

Former Circuit Judge Courtney C. Wells was found not guilty of using abusive language in public against the Rev. T. G. Bates in City Police Court Friday.

Rev. Bates complained that Wells had cursed him in public, but at the hearing he produced no witnesses.

In denying the charge, Wells brought to court with him two character witnesses, and Police Judge Don Fouts found him not guilty.

Baseball League Register April 4

Registration for Minor League, Little League, and Babe Ruth League applicants will be held Saturday, April 4, from 1 to 3 p.m. at Memorial Gym. This will be the only registration held this year. Boys who played last year must register again this year to be eligible to play.

175 Students Attend Weekend Conference On 'Poverty' Area

Over 175 college students were in Hazard over the weekend to attend a conference on "poverty and unemployment" sponsored by Berman Gibson's Appalachian Committee for Full Employment.

Representing about 20 colleges from the Northeastern states and as far west as Wisconsin and Texas, the students jammed the Allais Union Hall to participate in a weekend of speeches, workshop study sessions, panel discussions and tours about the county.

Harry M. Caudill, Whitesburg attorney and author of "Night Comes To The Cumberlands" was slated to kick-off the rally with a speech Friday morning but he did not appear.

In his absence, Gibson, known locally as the leader of the roving pickets who demonstrated against nonunion coal operators in 1962, took the platform and spoke to the students for over an hour.

In his rambling speech, Gibson talked about the history of his picket movement, local politics and economics, and his difficulties with the law.

He is under state indictment for armed robbery and other charges, and federal indictment for conspiracy to dynamite a railroad bridge. The state trial is scheduled for April 27 in Whitesburg, the federal trial to come July 14 at Jackson.

Gibson said he was innocent of both charges and suggested that he was being framed by his enemies.

"They'd like to get old Gibson out of the way," he said. Gibson told the students that miners in this area are in worse shape than they were in the thirties.

"Cheap labor is all the local businesses want," he said. "We want a cleaning day" in local government.

"They ain't but two sides in this, the rich and the poor." Gibson said he would like to organize the unemployed and those working for low wages into a force that would have a strong political voice here.

He said that 80 per cent of the voters here are miners and that they ought to control the elections with that majority.

The students responded to much of Gibson's talk with laughter and applause. Hamish Sinclair, secretary of the New York-based Committee For Miners, an organization that supports Gibson's movement, invited the students to return to their campuses and raise funds for Gibson's defense in court.

He also invited them to come back here in the summer and help the Committee For Full Employment to document cases where some miner's families have allegedly been denied their rightful welfare aid.

The students were quartered in the homes of families of the miners who follow Gibson. For the most part they stayed close to their meeting hall but several who were clad in beatnik garb created a small stir when they circulated among local citizens.

Although most of the students responded warmly to Gibson and participated attentively in the conference, some admitted in private conversation that they were disillusioned with Gibson and that the reports they would make back to their schools would amount to throwing cold water on Gibson's influence there.

Gibson has spent much of the last year making speeches on several college campuses before hundreds of students. The conference here is one result of his tour.

City police say that other than minor traffic problems near the meeting hall no disturbances arose from the weekend gathering, though one spokesman for the Gibson group said several of the students' cars were pilfered. This, however, was not reported to local police.

Perry Republicans To Select Members To Attend Convention

Perry County Republicans will meet next Saturday to pick 27 of their number to attend the district and state conventions later this month where they will elect delegates to the national party convention in San Francisco next July.

The county convention will be at one p.m. Saturday in the court house.

Presiding will be the new chairman of the County Republican Executive Committee, Elmer Holliday of Hazard. Holliday was elected to succeed State Representative Alex McIntyre as chairman at a meeting March 21.

Other newly-elected county officers include Edith Napier,

Jenkins Kiwanis Observe 25th Anniversary

An inter-club meeting and Ladies' night in observance of its twenty-fifth anniversary was held by the Jenkins Kiwanis Club on Thursday evening, March 26th, at the Jenkins Methodist Church.

The speaker of the occasion was Marvin Music, District Governor of the Kentucky-Tennessee District. His home is at Prestonsburg, Kentucky. Besides Hazard representatives, there were representatives from Salyersville, Prestonsburg, and Pikeville.

Attending from Hazard were George Pendleton, M. H. Alcorn, Sr., J. F. Brophy, Russell Muncy, Nin Combs and Alva Hollon.

Douglas Wins $100 In Bowling Contest

Bill Douglas, of Hazard, won $100 in the "Make That Spare" Contest on the Perry Bowl lanes last night. This is the second time since this contest began last September that anyone has succeeded in winning, although someone tries each Sunday night.

Six bowlers' names were drawn and those six had to play in a roll-off to see who would win. Other than Mr. Douglas, the players drawn were Kidd Fugate, Joe Napier, Herman Colwell, Ann Woods and Don Duff. To win the jackpot, Mr.

Douglas succeeded in scoring 100 on a split of the 6, 7, 8 and 10 pins.

When asked what he would do with the money, Mr. Douglas replied, "I don't know, but I may give my wife half of it."

The only other person to win the contest was Troy Braisher, who won last September. The jackpot now starts at $20 and the same amount will be added each week that the contest is not won until the jackpot reaches $100.00.

Secretary Of Labor Testifies On Anti-Poverty Bill

Washington, D. C., Mar. 27 — Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz, testifying before the Special Subcommittee on the Poverty Program of the House Education and Labor Committee on the Anti-Poverty Bill stated:

"I have strong convictions about the ethical bases of this bill—and carefully considered respect for its pragmatics. Ideals need hands and feet, ways and means. This war on poverty is not going to be fought in the tradition of emotional crusades. H. R. 10440 is a carefully worked out battle plan based on praising the Lord than on passing the ammunition.

"It reflects President Johnson's decision to call poverty by its right, ugly name, and to get down to the business of pulling it out by its roots.

"Our object is not to make poverty more endurable, but to get rid of it. We are therefore concentrating on jobs, and education and training for work—ways out of poverty.

"The total anti-poverty program includes the tax cut, the Manpower Development and Training Act, the Area Redevelopment Act, and the recently expanded Vocational Education Act. It includes opening up more jobs to those who have been barred from them, through the civil rights program. It includes raising wage levels through the expansion of Federal minimum wage coverage, and increasing the distribution of work by making the overtime penalty rates more effective.

"It must include, too, significant improvements in the unemployment compensation program, and the adoption of a program providing medical care for people whose work is done.

"It must include action that affects women as well as men. Millions of women are heads of families in poverty; many are without husbands; many are supplementing their husbands' earnings but are still living in poverty; others are eking out a poverty existence living alone. Many of these women are employed in local industries, not covered by our Federal minimum wage laws. Substantial improvements in State minimum wage levels would be a major contribution to the elimination of poverty."

The program, begun last year as a result of President Kennedy's growing concern that poverty in America was becoming an inherited trait, calls for creation of a Job Corps, Work-Training Program, and Work-Study Program.

Continuing, the Secretary said: "Mr. Shriver and Secretary McNamara have discussed the Job Corps. I would like to talk about the Work-training Program, for which the Development of Labor will be responsible.

"The Work-Training Program will provide opportunities for actual job experience for both young men and young women in the localities in which they live. Some will be able to stay in high school or to return if given the opportunity for a part-time job in a Work-Training Program. Others, having left school permanently, but not prepared for jobs, desperately need work experience to get a decent start. The economy is not now providing this work. Work-Training Programs will

"The Work-Training Programs will be designed to provide jobs in public and private nonprofit organizations in the first year of operation to 200,000 young men and women. These will be public service jobs which would not otherwise be done. The youth will normally live at home. The cost of these programs to the Federal Government in the first year will be $150 million. State or local sponsors will contribute 10 percent of the costs.

"Work-Training Programs will be especially geared to employ high school dropouts (who number almost 1 million each year) or potential dropouts who we must try to keep in school.

"Many of these young people are under real pressures to leave school and bring home wages. They must choose, often at age 16, between conflicting duties to family and to their own preparation. This is a cruel choice. For many, release could come from a part-time job.

"There is a wide range of attitudes among the youth with whom we are concerned. For many youth from poverty families, the experience of their parents has given them no reason for hope. A job will introduce them to the satisfaction of work and the utility of school.

"There is a harsh sentence in the Talmud: That the father who does not teach his son a trade teaches that boy to steal. This is no less true, today, of the society as a whole.

"Perhaps even more significant than their number and location are the types of jobs we

SECTION 6. It is hereby acknowledged that certain persons, firms and corporations, in recognition and acknowledgment of the levy of the tax or assessment against their properties as provided in the aforesaid "Certificate of Apportionment" have made payments from time to time on account thereof and such payments, whether made before or after the enactment of this Ordinance, and prior to the deadline hereinafter provided according to law, have been and will hereinafter be acknowledged, so that interest thereon will not accrue.

SECTION 7. No error in the proceedings of the City legislative body shall exempt any property from the lien of the improvement tax or assessment, or from the payment thereof, after the work has been approved and accepted. The City legislative body or the Courts in which suits are pending, shall make all corrections, rules and orders to do justice to all parties concerned. (See KRS 94.314).

SECTION 8. In accordance with all of the proceedings heretofore recited and under authority of the applicable sections of Chapter 94 of the Kentucky Revised Statutes, the City of Hazard, Kentucky, hereby levies an improvement tax or assessment upon each and every lot or parcel of land benefited by the aforesaid program for the improvement of streets and other public ways, the same being in accordance with the aforesaid "Certificate of Apportionment," as the same has been adjusted as aforesaid and as the same is on record in the office of the City Clerk as an "Official Public Document." Such improvement tax or assessment so levied shall be due and payable at the office of the City Treasurer thirty (30) days after the date of publication of this Ordinance, as provided by KRS 94.313; and in accordance with KRS 94.309(5), the City Treasurer shall give notice, at the same time this Ordinance is published, or within one week thereafter, that such payment is so due; such notice to be given in The Hazard Herald, heretofore determined to be the properly authorized newspaper according to KRS Chapter 424; provided, however, that within such period of thirty (30) days from and after the publication of this Ordinance the party or parties owning such benefited properties, as shown by the City's tax records, may have the privilege of electing to defer payment of such levy or assessment in accordance with the Ordinance adopted January 17, 1963, as amended by the aforesaid Ordinance No. 0-17-63, which was adopted December 31, 1963, but only in the event that such party or parties owning such properties shall, within said period of thirty (30) days enter into an agreement in writing with the City (in duplicate upon forms provided for that purpose in the office of the City Treasurer) agreeing that in consideration of such privilege of deferment such party or parties will make no objection to any illegality or irregularity in the assessment, levy or imposition of the tax or assessment, and that such party or parties will pay the same as provided in KRS 94.316 and in the Ordinance as aforesaid. In the event that the thirtieth day after the publication of this Ordinance shall fall upon a Sunday or legal holiday, the City Treasurer is hereby authorized to accept payment of the same on the next succeeding business day. Any tax or assessment that is not paid when due, as herein provided, shall bear interest at the same rate that is applicable to general City taxes, which interest shall commence to run as of the due date of the improvement tax or assessment, as herein levied, and shall continue to run and be chargeable as provided by law. Penalties shall be as provided by law in the case of City taxes.

SECTION 9. When the thirty-day period provided by law, and as hereinabove stated in SECTION 8 of this Ordinance has expired, the City Treasurer shall report to the City Manager the aggregate amount of the taxes or assessments which property owners have requested to be deferred in installment payments, as hereinabove referred to, and as provided in the Ordinances hereinabove referred to, and shall deliver to the City Manager one of the signed copies of the request for such deferment, as filed in the office of the City Treasurer within said thirty-day period. Thereupon, and without further authorization from the Board of Commissioners, the City Manager shall transmit such signed copies of the request for deferment to Bond Counsel heretofore employed by the City in that connection, and Bond Counsel is authorized and requested to prepare and submit, as quickly as may be feasible, a form of bond-authorizing ordinance pursuant to which the Mayor and Board of Commissioners may authorize and offer at public sale the City's assessment bonds in an amount sufficient to provide for the payment of such requested deferred assessments or taxes.

SECTION 10. Any such assessment or tax which is not paid within the thirty-day period set forth in SECTION 8 hereof and which is not the subject of a written request for deferment in annual installments, shall be placed upon the next City Tax Bill and shall be due and payable, with interest and penalties, as provided in the case of City taxes according to law.

SECTION 11. This Ordinance shall take effect immediately upon its adoption and publication as provided by law.

Eight Hazard High students went to Lexington on March 13 for the Annual Journalism Clinic. They attended classes such as: "What Is A Good School Newspaper", "Writing Better Heads", "Good Page Make-Up", and "Fun With Words". These lectures lasted from 9:00 a.m. until 1:50 p.m. At 2:00 p.m. "On the Hill" was evaluated by David Couvert, a sophomore at U. K. who is majoring in journalism.

The students who made the trip were Gary Mosely, Leslie Combs, Chuck Donahue, George Pendleton, Connie Elam, Patti Campbell, Marsha Craft, and Jina Craft. The adult chaperons were Mrs. Marcia Napier and Mrs. Rice J. Kirby, sponsor of "On the Hill".

"Forgiveness, hard work, understanding, and love sum up a good marriage," concluded Joseph Craft, a local lawyer, as he spoke to the H.H.S. Future Homemakers Club, Thursday, March 5, in the auditorium. As a state project the club is taking "Marriage Calls for Preparation," in which they are studying marriage and divorce.

Mr. Craft's topic was "The Legal Aspects of Marriage and Divorce." He stated that the two main causes of divorce were money and sex. He said, "I have seen more marriages dissolve when they have too much money than when they haven't enough." In the questioning period following, Mr. Craft added that divorce was also very expensive.

Degree work has begun in F.H.A. Degrees are earned by setting up personal, community, school, and family goals and carrying them out. Several freshmen girls have chosen cleaning the trophy cases as school goals.

National F.H.A. week will be observed by the Hazard chapter April 5-11. The club has been making plans for the anticipated week. They have been appointing committees, informing the chapter about F.H.A., and making sure that everyone in the chapter is involved.

The week will be started with Family Day, Sunday, when the F.H.A. member and her family attend church together at the church of their choice.

Monday is Publicity Day, when members will be wearing red and white, official F.H.A. colors. Tuesday, Community Day, will be a day for visiting the sick or sending get well cards to shut-ins. Wednesday is School Day. The girls will perform duties for teachers and clean their own lockers. Thursday will be Individual Day, when the girls will do something they have never done before. Friday, Banquet Day, should consist of a banquet of some kind, preferably a Mother-Daughter banquet. Last, but not least, will be Saturday, Home Day. During this day the girls will be helping mothers undertake special cleaning projects or preparing a special dessert for supper or dinner.

That glorious moment for the Seniors has arrived; the class rings are here! After waiting seven long months for that eventful day, the Seniors stamped the office for that "hunk of gold". After that crowded the office for some time, Mr. Stringer drove them out, saying that since they had waited this long, it wouldn't hurt to wait a few hours more. The disillusioned Seniors disbanded and resolved to return in a couple of hours. Now the hallowed halls of H.H.S. glimmer with those long-awaited gold bands.

David Campbell has found the answer to the question, "What does a ball player have to say about a State Tournament when he is playing on one of the games?" David interviewed Kenny Tate, Hazard High Senior, who was one of the king pins for the Bulldogs in the Tourney.

Tate, a guard, was co-captain and was what is known as a "team man". (A team man runs the team and keeps it under control.)

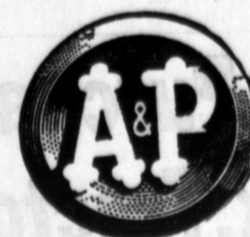

Here are some of his comments on the games: SENECA: "Unselfish is a one-man team. He must be good enough to make All-American. To me, Unselfish appears to be a lazy person, but considering the fact that he is 6'9" and weighs 235 lbs., he moves pretty well."

OLDHAM COUNTY: "Oldham County's Jenkins made the All-Tournament team. He was the leading point getter and, I guess, the top rebounder."

BOURBON COUNTY: "They

depends mostly on their two guards, Tipton and Lemasters. These two boys seemed to give me most of the trouble."

HAZARD-SENECA: "I would say that the turning point in the game was our inability to hold the ball and to shoot on three trips down the floor in the final quarter."

HAZARD'S MOST IMPROVED PLAYER OF 1964: "I would say the most improved player on the team this year would be David Olinger. In our game with Oldham County David scored 11 points in a matter of minutes and seven quick points in the Bourbon County game. Even though he rode the bench, he was always ready."

Bofkin-Compton Wedding Vows Solemnized In Lexington Church

Central Christian Church of Lexington, Ky., was the scene Friday, February 28, of the wedding of Miss Suzanne Bufkin and Mr. Ronald Wayne Compton, both of Lexington. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Bufkin, Hattiesburg, Mississippi. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Compton, of Hazard.

The Ceremony was held at 7:00 p.m. with Rev. Franklin R. McGuire, of Georgetown Christian Church, formerly of Hazard, officiating.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. William B. Bufkin.

The Chapel was beautifully and simply decorated with two candleabra, entwined with smilax. Flanking the communion table on either side were altar vases holding large sprays of stock and snapdragons.

The organist was Pat Dolworth, of the University of Kentucky. "Oh, Sweet Mystery of Life," the "Wedding Prayer," and the "Lord's Prayer" were sung by Elizabeth Ward, also of UK.

The bride wore a gown of Italian silk, designed with a deep oval scalloped neckline. The moulded bodice was softly draped with bands of Chantilly lace and silk with fitted sleeves which fell below the elbow.

The full bouffant waltz-length skirt was accented with a straight panel of lace. The veil, handmade by the bride's mother, was a shoulder length mantilla style, edged with double pointed Chantilly lace. She carried a white orchid, nestled in stephanotis, on a white Testament.

Miss Mary Katherine Bunnell, a student at the University of Kentucky, and roommate of the bride, was Maid of Honor. Miss Bunnell wore a deep powder blue dress designed of raw silk, featuring a rounded neckline, elbow-length sleeves and a slim skirt, with shoes to match.

Her hat was a pale blue whimsy with tiny blue rosebuds. She carried a colonial bouquet of white rosebuds and stephanotis, accented by a blue ribbon.

The mother of the bride wore a chiffon dress of regal pink with a shirred overblouse and a slim skirt, a hat of petals in shades of regal pink, shoes dyed to match, long, white gloves. A white orchid completed her attire.

The groom's mother wore a dress of embroidered royal blue taffeta featuring a low back, elbow-length sleeves, and a straight skirt, with matching hat and beige accessories. She wore a corsage of two cymbidium orchids.

The bride's traveling costume was a three-piece suit of grey herringbone styled with a straight, yoked jacket. She wore red accessories and an orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Mr. Bill Criswell served as best man. The ushers were William S. Oder and Robert E. Samuelson, both of Lexington. The best man and ushers are

Gossip

You find me in any crowd I am a noisy little thing, I make no respect in persons And I can really sting.

How I handle conversation is an awful shame. I take some little word or act and ruin yours and your best friends name.

I travel over the telephone I am exchanged at the store I go to Sunday School and Church and hang about the door.

I am took to business meetings and gatherings by the score Like the collection plate that's passed, each adds a little more.

Both men and women deal in me. I am never any profit. I am one of Satan's daily weapons, known as silly gossip.

Smaller Instruments, Lower Prices Mark Beltone's Latest Achievements in Hearing Aid Research

Beltone Electronics Corp., pioneers in hearing aid research, has recently perfected a new hearing aid designed to fit behind the ear and weighing only 1/4 of an ounce. This remarkable new Beltone is called the "Serenade". The amplifier in the new Serenade is only one-sixteenth the size of those in present instruments, yet offers more reliability and amplification," said William Gardner, Hearing Aid Audiologist of Beltone of Hazard. "Yet, for all its tiny size it delivers brilliant, natural sound and is so small and inconspicuous it is scarcely noticeable even to those who know you best."

The one thing that is most noticeable about this superbly designed hearing aid is the amazing quality of its performance. One, it would have been literally impossible to build an aid like the Serenade that squeezed so much power for clear hearing into so small a space. Its total weight, complete with pill-size, long-life battery is less than 1/4 of an ounce.

A new breakthrough by leaders in space research, supplemented by brilliant engineering, testing and re-testing by Beltone, was needed to make the Serenade a wonderful reality. And now that it has been achieved the new instrument means new, clear unstrained hearing for many thousands who have waited for just this kind of hearing help.

A chip of pyrex glass may mean new hearing for you! It is the heart of the Bel-

B & PW Club Entertained With Spring Style Show Monday Night

At their regular meeting on Monday night, March 23rd, some thirty members and visitors of the local Business and Professional Women's Club were entertained with a Spring and Summer Style Show sponsored by the Educational Division of Simplicity Pattern Co., Inc. and modeled by eleven Perry County 4-H Members, under the direction of Mrs. Cecile Bates Townes, Perry County Home Agent.

Mrs. Townes, a member of and brought to the meeting in the Personal Development committee of the Club, was introduced by the chairman, Florine Adkins.

Mrs. Townes introduced Mrs. Margaret McKinstry, State 4-H Field Agency, U. of K., Lexington and Miss Margaret Lowery, Krypton 4-H Leader who served as narrator. Other guests included Mrs. Lewis Fugate, Mrs. Estill Pollard and Miss Bonnie Pollard.

Twenty-one patterns were shown including beginners' Blue Chips; Jumpers; Separates which included cape, long and short coat, dress, suit; Casuals which included a fashion garb for the young 4-H Miss; V-necked blouse with pleated skirt; playclothes; afternoon and evening dresses.

They were modeled by 4-Hers Sharon Hope Combs, Anna Lois Fugate, Sue Ann Trent and Donna Spencer of the Dilce Combs School; Audrey Mastin, Mary Bersaglia and Carol Pollard of the M. C. Napier School; Wilma Deaton, Lorraine Johnson and Patsy Riles of the Buckhorn School and Miss Martha Hamblin, a 1963 Buckhorn Graduate.

Their escort was Mr. Glennis Hall, another 4-H'er. Little Miss Ruth Fugate of Airport Gardens sat in the living room with Mrs. Townes and viewed the show.

This was one of the nicest Style Shows and one would have thought these models were hired professionals as well as their narrator. The Club is certainly indebted to them as well as Mrs. Townes for bringing such a fine program.

Mrs. Townes also extended an invitation for the Club to visit the 4-H Dress Revue at the Wootton Elementary School on May 15, when the models will wear the clothes they have made this Summer.

Other members of Mrs. Adkins' Committee included Martha Wirtz, Josephine Osborne, Bethel Benton, Dessie Pennington, Eva Lee Smith, Bertha Kelley, June Webb, Wanda L. Carroll and Aileen E. Combs.

Another 'high-light' feature of the evening was the sale of 'Outdated Hats' taken from the members' storage places

State Strip Mining Bill To Go Into Effect July 1

The bill to tighten State control of strip mining, approved by the General Assembly with only one dissenting vote, will go into effect July 1. The bill was signed into law by Governor Edward T. Breathitt at the day before final adjournment of the 1964 session.

Although the measures contained in the bill itself will not go into effect until July 1, a regulation adopted earlier by the State Strip Mining and Reclamation Commission contains similar controls and is now in effect.

Representative John Swinford, who introduced the bill in the House said it "attempts to save the natural resources of the state and at the same time save the (strip mine) industry for the state."

The bill makes these major changes in the present strip-mining law:

- * Makes mandatory, instead of permissive, such reclamation procedures as covering coal seams and auger holes with compacted dirt, sealing breakthroughs, handling surface water to avoid erosion and pollution, and burying material which would produce acid or be a fire hazard.
- * Prohibits placing of spoil banks so that normal erosion would carry the soil to adjacent property or streams or roads.
- * Requires approval of a reclamation plan before a strip-mining permit is issued.
- * Requires completion of reclamation within one year unless yearly reports are filed.
- * Includes access roads in the reclamation plan but not in the area on which acreage fees are computed.
- * Raises the acreage fees to help aid by operators from $15 to $25 an acre.
- * Raises the maximum performance bond from $250 to $500 per acre and the total minimum bond from $1,000 to $2,000.
- * One amendment was offered by Swinford and passed by voice vote. It allows an applicant for a strip-mining permit to certify that no officer of the company is a past violator of the strip-mining law. The original bill required disclosure of the names of all officers, directors and 10 per cent of the stockholders.
- * The bill passed the House 88 to 0 and passed the Senate 37 to 0.
- * Prior to signing the bill into law, Governor Breathitt appointed Robert Montgomery, former assistant to Conservation Commissioner J. O. Matlick, as deputy commissioner of conservation. He will oversee all strip mine programs within the department.
- * The administrative regulations adopted by the Strip Mining Commission and signed by Governor Breathitt, contain these points:
- * On lands that were in cultivation before being mined, as determined by the Strip Mining and Reclamation Division, or those that have an average slope of 12 per cent or less, the overburden must be graded to a rolling topography that may be traversed by farm machinery.
- * On lands that have not been in cultivation and have an average slope of more than 12 per cent, the overburden must be graded to a rolling topography by striking off ridges and peaks to a minimum width of 25 feet when pits are 50 feet wide or less, and the minimum width of grading must be increased 5 feet for each 10 feet of pit width over 50 feet.
- * On strip mine "benches" the spoil must be graded so that the water will drain toward the highwall and the slope shall not exceed 20 per cent.
- * The Commission also allowed waiver of the regulations in special cases with the approval of the strip mining and reclamation director and the conservation commissioner. The waiver must be presented for concurrence at the next meeting of the full Commission.

Republican Party Disappointed With Governor's Veto of Bills

Representative Alexander McIntyre, of Hazard, general outlook concerning the Governor's recent veto barrage is summed up in this Republican Party viewpoint.

The recent "DO NOTHING" legislative session has now been turned into an absolutely "NOWHERE" session by the casual whim of the Governor's power of veto.

Eighteen bills vetoed this week by the Governor brings the total of good State-wide legislation enacted up to the grand total of almost nothing. The Republican Party worked hard for a few bills worthy of bipartisan support. We are extremely disappointed to see some good bills vetoed by the whim of one mis-informed man.

Good legislation headed for the scrap heap by way of veto include:

1. HB 333 - allowing a small State income tax deduction for the parents of college students.
2. SB 115 - allowing a citizen or contractor doing business with the State to sue the State for breach of contract.
3. HB 208 - special license plates for Kentucky National Guardsmen, paid for by the Guardsman if he wanted these special plates.
4. HB 372 - creating a special retirement fund for Kentucky school teachers.
5. HR 51 - approving the form of bills drawn up for and presented to the Legislature.
6. SB 227 - authorizing free textbooks in the few special schools for retarded children.
7. SB 92 - allowing an arrested person a telephone call or some means of communication.

These bills were passed in both the House and the Senate with very little or sometimes

Peanut Pizzas Make A Quick, Warm Lunch

Marry peanut butter and cheese to warm, toasted English muffins, accent with a crunchy circle of green pepper or onion for a quickly-made lunch to warm both body and soul on blustery days. This new, hot and hearty peanut butter sandwich is one which will probably line up with the other favorites at your house, once you've tried it. The idea was developed in the Test Kitchens of the Peter Pan Peanut Butter Company. For best results, use this new, moist peanut butter.

PEANUT BUTTER PIZZAS (Makes 6 servings)

1/2 cup Peter Pan Smooth Peanut Butter
3 English muffins, halved and toasted
6 slices American cheese
3 slices sweet onion
3 green pepper rings

Spread peanut butter on muffin halves. Top each with 1 cheese slice, then onion or green pepper. Broil 3 to 4 inches from heat until cheese melts (about 1 or 2 minutes). Garnish with parsley if desired.
